FASCINATING MALAYSIA

Malaysia with its multi-racial composition, celebrates many colourful festivals steeped in age-old traditions. With its three major races, i.e., the Malays, Chinese and Indians, as well as many other indigenous groups that have been in existence for centuries, it is only natural that their rich cultural heritage contributes to the wealth and diversity of various festivals celebrated throughout the year. In fact, hardly a day passes without the celebration of an auspicious event or festival.

You will see people from all walks of life converging from one place to another during festive seasons because the celebration of festivals is a community affair where the warmth, exuberance and fun-loving nature of Malaysians are reflected in the colour and gaiety of its festivities. You will also be fascinated by

MAJOR EVENTS

JANUARY '95

Thaipusam

17th January -
Batu Caves,
Selangor

Celebrated by Hindus to mark the victory of Lord
Subramaniam over the demons and is symbolic of the triumph of good over evil.

The festival begins with a grand procession of the silver chariot bearing the jewel-studded statue of Lord Subramaniam, also known as Lord Murugan. It is a day of penance and thanksgiving for blessings received. Devotees carry 'kavadis' (steel arch with long spikes and metal hooks that pierce the flesh) to fulfill their vows and some dance their way barefooted along the routes. Sacrifices such as milk, honey and fruits are transported on 'kavadis' and presented at Lord Subramaniam's shrine.

Chinese New Year

31st January - 1st February

The most important event in the Chinese festive calendar, Chinese New Year falls on the first day of the first moon in the Chinese lunar calendar. On the eve of this day, Chinese families hold reunion dinners to usher in the New Year. The first two days are spent paying respect to elders, visiting relatives and friends. In keeping with age-old tradition, 'ang-pows' (red packets containing money) are given to children and unmarried adults. Lion dances add to the festive atmosphere and acrobats demonstrate skills in collecting 'ang-pows' amidst the clashing of cymbals and the beating of gongs and drums.

Hari Raya Puasa

3rd & 4th March

This festival marks the end of the fasting month of Ramadhan. It falls on the first day of Syawal, the 10th month of the Muslim calendar. Muslims usher in the day with thanksgiving prayers at the mosque and remembrance of departed loved ones. It is also a common practice for Muslims to hold 'open houses' for their relatives and friends. Many tourists will also be invited to sample the warm Malaysian hospitality during this occasion.

Langkawi Festival

March - Langkawi, Kedah

Langkawi - 'The Island of Legends' will host a sea of activities during this festival. There will be sports events, cultural performances and various folk games to indulge in. There will also be a Trade and Industrial Exposition where one can catch a glimpse of the latest products or technology that participants have to offer.

Certainly a festival not to be missed!
